Plan your journey

Use this link to help you plan your journey using Google Maps.

By rail

Exeter St David’s destinations include London (2 hours), Bristol (1.25 hours) and Birmingham (2.5 hours).

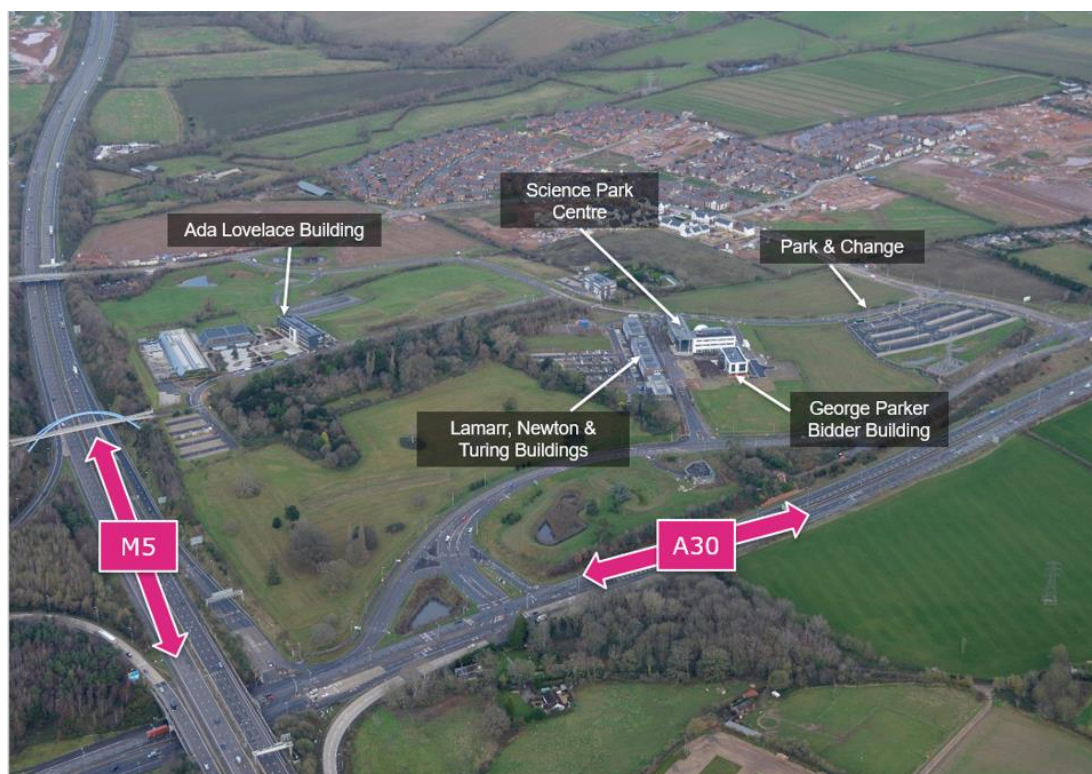

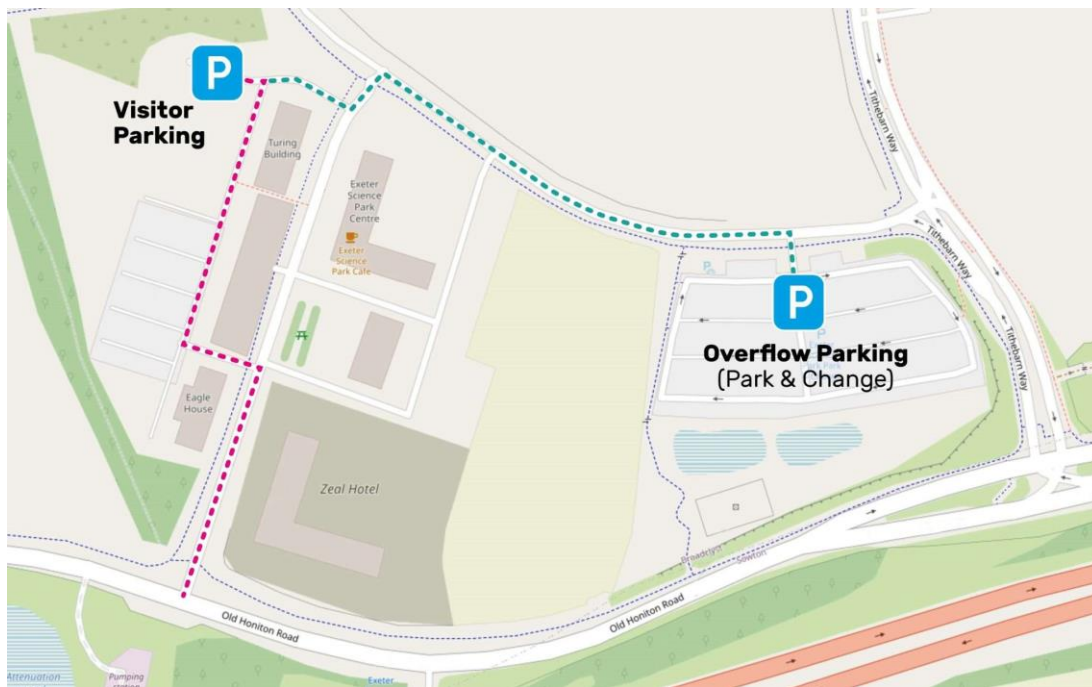

By air

Exeter International Airport’s destinations include UK and European cities.

Visitor Parking:

Access to the Science Park site is via a secure barrier system and car parking operates a number plate recognition system. Parking is available for visitors to the site; at the entrance barriers, visitors should buzz through to the Science Park Centre to be allowed access. Electric vehicle charging points are also available on-site at the nearby Park & Change car park.

Visitors can also use the nearby Park and Change car park. See maps following.

Access to the Science Park Centre is where the main Science Park Reception is located and all HAMMAR attendees will access the venue via the Science Park Centre entrance.

Although the visitor car park is quite modest in size, the 'Park & Change' car park is actually free and within easy walking distance of the Centre.
